From taking a short walk to bending over to tie a shoe, chronic joint pain and stiffness can be debilitating. If you suffer from arthritis of the hip or knee and you haven't experienced adequate results with medication or other conservative treatment options, please join us at this free seminar.

Board-certified orthopedic surgeon Steven Allsing, MD, will lead a discussion that includes:

- An overview of treatment options, including MAKOplasty[®], a minimally invasive, robotic-assisted procedure that causes less pain and scarring and preserves healthy bone, tissue and ligaments
- A Q&A session with the doctor
