Introducing FinanceBoards by Wootrader, the first truly configurable stock market dashboards platform, made up of widgets that can integrate any API data that the user has access to. FinanceBoards builds a bridge on integrating any custom API - from Company financials, technical charts and indicators to website SEO metrics, Facebook likes and Appstore downloads and ratings. FinanceBoards also has access to Wootrader's weighted predictive analytics, with the General Woo ranking included as a part of the platform.

“Wootrader gives traders what they need to compete with machines, and injects a much-needed human element into a market that has recently been dominated by computers,” said Jason Raznick, CEO of Benzinga. “FinanceBoards provides a whole new level of choice in the information and data they want to see on their dashboard.”
